

18.08.2007

To Whom It May Concern,

My name is Thomas Puskailler, I am a singer/songwriter and Musical performer. I have played a number of principle roles in musicals all across Europe. Disney's "Aida", "Saturday Night Fever" and "Grease das Musical" to name just a few. I am also working as a recording artist, writing my own material and working alongside my producer in creating my own unique sound.

I have been performing from a very early age and was lucky to have a 'natural voice' and didn't have a great deal of voice training. I took occasional singing lessons at intermittent periods in my life, however no intensive training that had a notable effect on my voice.

This was something that changed upon meeting Prof' Dennis Heath. I met him whilst performing in a European tour, and my voice was suffering from tiredness, over work and stress. I was specifically looking for someone who could help me avoid this kind of damage, not just for the next show I was in, but for the rest of my life. Dennis Heath was recommended to me by a previous singing coach and I was introduced to the world of 'Speech Level Singing' and the 'Seth Riggs' technique, something that changed my voice dramatically.

Dennis saw immediately that I was in need of help to combat the fatigue I was experiencing vocally. He showed me the techniques needed to avoid this and therefore protect my voice for the future. I worked intensively for one and a half months with Prof' Heath, and I can honestly say I learnt more in this short time than I could have even imagined. He also provided me with advice on my career, advice which I undertook and still value very highly.

Prof' Heath has such a great understanding of the voice....there is no time wasted with him. He was able to see my problems straight away, in my very first class with him, and we set to work immediately on exercises to solve them.

When my schedule allows, I really hope I can return to undertake further training with Dennis. I feel he has so much to offer as a voice coach, and I feel blessed that I had the opportunity to meet him and learn from him.

God Bless him in his work, and I hope more singers will have the opportunity to experience what Professor Heath has to offer. It's something very special!

Yours Sincerely

Thomas Puskailler
Recording Artist and Musical Performer
GERMANY